UNIQUE WINDOW DISPLAY

Lavish and Ingenious Decorations of Business Houses Attract Attention.
A man who never reads newspapers —if there is such a person—never talks sports, cares nothing about football and does not even know that Missouri will play Kansas here tomorrow. would have to open his eyes and take notice if he should happen to come to Columbia today. He could not walk along the streets without being impressed with the fact that the merchants of Columbia were football enthusiasts.

If he passed the window of the Miller Shoe Company he would get an idea what the Missouri-Kansas game will look like. He would see eleven doll Tigers and Eleven doll Jayhawkers engaged in a football game. He would see several of the Tigers and most of the Jayhawkers clashing together in the middle of the field, while one Tiger with the ball is going through a clear field for a touchdown.
He would see the bleachers filled with enthusiastic dolls, the spectators, and a tree just outside of the field filled with negroes, more spectators.

Across the street he would see the window of Gillaspie's drug store decorated with Missouri and Kansas colors. He would also see a big M and some crimson and blue decorations on the front of the Central Bank, colors in the window of the Boone County National Bank and the Lipscomb-Garth Shoe Company. If he walked up Broadway he would notice colors all along the street in the Peck Drug Company's window and Levy's shoe store.

When he came to Guitars shoe store he would stop, if for nothing more, to see what the crowd was looking at.
In the window there is a little football field, and close by a live tiger and live Jayhawk, waiting for the combat.

The candy stores on Broadway are decorated with K's, M's and candies resembling the colors of the universities. The dry goods stores have displays of ribbons and letters. The wax figures which are regularly used to display dresses are today used to display the Gold and Black, and Crimson and Blue. Strawn-Holland has a Missouri and Kansas goal, with a Missouri ball going over the Kansas goal.

Sykes and Broadhead Clothing Company has in the windows a display of colors and letters in color. Victor Barth Clothing Company has the picture of a tiger caged, and under the picture is an announcement that the tiger will be out tomorrow afternoon.

The Missouri Store window is drawing a crowd. It has a football field marked off. A tiger, life size, is looking over one goal post and a Jayhawk over the other. The Minnesota shift, represented by a blackbird on a porch, shifts backward and forward in the field. Brewer, a large picture, smiles and points to the tiger. A card in the window says "The Minnesota shift.
We should worry."

ALL ALUMNI MUST REGISTER Names Should Be Left in Commercial Club Rooms for Telegrams

Every visiting alumnus will be expected to register in the Commercial Club rooms in the basement of the Virginia Building. This is particularly desirable in case any important telegrams are sent to visitors. It will also be valuable to visiting grads who will want to meet some of their old college friends.

Ask every visitor you see if he has registered yet. The parade will start as planned. All the old grads will be expected to assemble on the east side of Stephens College at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

E. Sidney Stephens has charge of the parade. Some of the classes have not secured marshals yet. Marshals have been found for the classes of '84 and '89. Signs will be provided for all the classes taking part in the parade.
Every old grad is expected to march in the parade.
